1st Annual “Find Your Freedom” Seminar
Estero, Florida, November 17th, 2019

June 2019

Dear Potential Sponsor

We would like to invite you to become our sponsor for our First Annual “Find Your Freedom” Seminar, held Sunday, November 17th, 2019 in Estero, Florida, which not only benefits everyone involved (Sponsors, Speakers, Attendees,) but also supports the Florida Coalition Against Human Trafficking as part of our “Give To Grow” Program.

The “Find Your Freedom” Seminar was born out of the passion and love of the founder, Eszter (EsZti) Minor (owner and founder of SoulWarrior Living LLC) for helping people heal, grow and transform their lives through the services and products available in our community. She saw the need to fill the gap between desires and services, and through her own experiences, she realized the need for a deeper connection, more opportunities, and knowledge to be shared. Many of us give up on or don’t even start to live our lives fully, due to the lack of recognition for the endless opportunities available. These opportunities come in many forms and are infinite numbers to choose from, as long as one knows where to look and what to ask for.

The “Find Your Freedom” Seminar is a full day event where speakers and sponsors have the opportunity to connect, educate and empower people through their services and products to help everyone cultivate their own unique freedom in any area; be it self-care, relationships, career or finances, or the contribution they want to be in the world, on any level of their choosing. This event serves as a conduit to bring people, companies, ideas, wisdom, services, desires and inspiration together for those who are ready to have something different and are open to stepping into the unknown through guidance and curiosity.

The event is fully funded by our sponsors and in return, we are excited to offer some amazing opportunities. Our intention is to share the spotlight with our sponsors through our marketing avenues, be it all social media outlets, event banners and T-shirts, program booklets and gift bags given to all attendees, flyers distributed throughout local businesses, advertisement in the Natural Awakening Magazine, representation and table at the event, and more. These are available based on the level of sponsorship chosen.

This event is designed to serve over 200 people and to create awareness of the opportunities in our community for everyone on their personal journey to their freedom, be it emotional, mental, financial, health or other topic related.

We are also excited to announce our support for the Florida Coalition Against Human Trafficking as part of our “Give To Grow” Program, inspired by our founder’s passion for making a difference and her personal experience as a survival of human trafficking. The event includes a raffle which supports the Coalition by donating 100% of the profits from the raffle ticket sales. For this, we are collecting donations, which is another avenue we offer for our partners to be recognized.

We are looking forward to making the First Annual “Find Your Freedom” Seminar the most impactful and inspirational for everyone involved, and we believe that with your support it is more than possible. We invite you to partner up with us spreading the message and value of personal freedom by becoming a Sponsor and co-create the path to the endless creative possibilities for connection, education, and empowerment.

The attached chart provides information on our Sponsor Tiers for this year. The First Annual “Find Your Freedom” Seminar will be held on Sunday, November 17th, 2019, 10:00 AM - 8:00 PM, in the Embassy Suites, Estero, Florida.

A letter from our founder

Dear Sponsor

Thank you for taking the time to read this information and for allowing this vision into your space. Instead of introducing myself and what I do I want to share what this vision means to me. What freedom means to me.

The "Find Your Freedom" Seminar is a full day event packed with education, connections and so many amazing opportunities to choose from, in order to find your own Freedom, no matter what it means to you.

This event was born out of a desire for my freedom; to be free to do what I enjoy and passionate about, to be free to bring people together through events, classes, and programs where they can share space, energy, information, love, wisdom, ideas, services and desires and uplift one another while remembering that self-love and self-care are the foundation of all forms of freedom. It is the product of looking for my freedom through healing, growing and transforming my inner world, and finding joy, excitement, adventure and empowerment in the process, next to the Emotional Freedom I am so eager and excited to share with the world.

My life's work is about sharing the tools and principles of cultivating Emotional Freedom and through this I was blessed to meet and connect with people who have their own experiences, stories, and passion to share about the freedom they cultivated in their lives, while building their dreams and worlds, through Personal Growth, Spirituality, Holistic Approaches, Traveling, Music, Martial Arts, Education, Healing, Nature, Collaborations, making mistakes, falling down and picking themselves up, and never giving up as they all knew and held the deepest desire in their heart for Freedom, Joy, Love, Empowerment and Appreciation, some of the emotional desires we all share under all our dreams.

This Seminar is a foundational block of what is possible when we all come together and share our gifts and talents openly, making ourselves heard and seen, and take a leap of faith into the unknown, trusting that we all have a greater purpose than we can imagine. Trusting that we are guided to everyone we meant to connect with as we empower the world around us to take a leap of faith through learning, sharing, giving and receiving, celebrating and holding space for each other, while remembering that we cannot give from an empty cup, so making our own well-being a priority is essential in serving the world we want to be part of.

1st Annual “Find Your Freedom” Seminar
Estero, Florida, November 17th, 2019

Learning and living the principles of self-care and self-love allows us to look deeper within ourselves, which can create a ripple effect of permission for others to do the same and able to share love, care, compassion, forgiveness, responsibility, accountability, openness, gentleness, grace, fun, adventure, excitement, joy, curiosity, passion, empathy, healing, connection, support, and more and more freedom.

Your support is one of many amazing miracles and for that I am grateful. As the official letter already explained, my vision is to create an environment where the energy of giving and receiving is free-flowing, allowing everyone involved to learn, grow and expand either as an individual looking for help and guidance or as a service provider offering ways to that.

In the book, The Seven Spiritual Laws of Success, by Deepak Chopra, under the Law of Giving he writes “the easiest way to get what you want is to help others get what they want.”

My deepest desire is to help everyone cultivate what they want in this life and recognizing my calling as a facilitator in this I am honored and deeply grateful to be able to offer this opportunity to you, and looking forward to exchanging the energy of giving and receiving to support your growth and expansion into your true desires.

Thank you for your amazing service in our community.

With Gratitude

(EsZti) Eszter Minor
Founder of the “Find Your Freedom” Seminar and SoulWarrior Living LLC.
